A MESSAGE FROM OUR
Artistic Director, Syd Birrell

The rumours are true. I'm retiring! After 35 years, this year's Messiah concerts will be my last as Artistic Director of the Peterborough Singers.

This is a bittersweet moment. Bitter, because the Singers has given me many of the most memorable moments of my life, and I will desperately miss standing at that podium. How can I ever forget directing Handel's Messiah the night my son, James, died of cancer? The dozens of Messiah concerts since have played a key role in the healing journey of everyone who grieved with us, and healed with us.

But this moment is also sweet. I can rest knowing that, after 35 years, the choir is healthier than ever. After much reflection, I decided that now, when the choir is at its best, is the time to pass on the baton. I want to hand my successor—whoever they may be—a healthy, thriving, well-oiled machine.

This is what Syd's Legacy Fund is for—not a monument, but a toolkit. It will help with the things that make the choir soar: world-class soloists who lift the roof, programs that bring music into communities, and all the invisible gears that keep the machine running. It's about ensuring the next conductor walks into a room full of possibility.

If the Peterborough Singers has ever made you smile, cry, sit up straighter, or hum on the way home, I hope you'll consider supporting this next chapter. Your gift will help keep the music alive... for the next 35 years!

Yuletide Cheer

Saturday, November 29, 2025
7:00 PM • Emmanuel United Church

The holiday season hasn't really begun until after the Singers' Yuletide concert. That's what our longtime fans consistently tell us. And no wonder! With a venue packed to the rafters, a selection of Christmas favourites, the powerful Casavant organ shaking the building to its foundations, and hundreds of audience members joining in the sing-a-long carols, is there a better feel-good, family-friendly Christmas event anywhere in Peterborough?

This year's Yuletide will be Syd's last as artistic director, and so he is packing the program with his personal favourites. Once again, the Singers will be joined by the incredible Venabrass ensemble. This year's concert will also feature an original composition by Marcus Venables of Venabrass, commissioned by the Peterborough Singers to mark Syd's retirement.

FEATURING: Venabrass Quintet & Syd Birrell (organ)

Handel's Messiah

Sunday, December 14, 2025 • 3:30 PM
Monday, December 15, 2025 • 7:00 PM
Emmanuel United Church

For Artistic Director Syd Birrell, the annual Messiah concerts are the highlight of the year, recalling thirty-five years of memories. This year's Messiah performances will be especially poignant, as they mark Syd's final concerts as the Singers' artistic director.

This year, Syd wanted to bring back his favourite Messiah soloists. However, with dozens of world-class soloists having joined the Singers over the years, it proved impossible to choose just four. And so, there will be a total of six soloists, two of whom will swap out on different nights. Come celebrate Syd's 35-year-legacy of choral excellence, and experience the heart-lifting, healing power of Handel's masterpiece.

FEATURING: Leslie Fagan & Janelle Lucyk (Soprano), Lillian Brooks (Mezzo), Ian Sabourin (Counter Tenor), Michael Colvin (Tenor), Alex Dobson (Bass)

On Broadway

Saturday, February 28, 2026
2:00 PM • Emmanuel United Church

Musical theatre is more than belted show tunes—it's the heartbeat of storytelling, the emotion woven into melody, and the magic that brings us together in our shared humanity.

From the relentless quest for justice in Les Misérables to the defiant spirit of Rent and the yearning of West Side Story, Broadway captures every shade of the human experience—love, laughter, struggle, triumph—transforming them into songs that stir the soul.

This season, the Peterborough Singers invite you to revel in the music that has defined generations and to help you discover new favorites destined to take centre stage in your heart. Join us for an unforgettable concert where voices soar, melodies embrace, and the spirit of Broadway shines bright.

FEATURING: Barry Haggarty (guitar), Andrew Affleck (bass), Curtis Cronkwright (drums), Alexia Preston (piano), Anne Normand (piano)

DIRECTED BY: Melissa Wotherspoon

The Creation

Saturday, May 9, 2026 • 7:30 PM
Sunday, May 10, 2026 • 3:00 PM
Emmanuel United Church

Performed with the Peterborough Symphony Orchestra

If you think that a musical telling of the creation of the world would be big and dramatic...you'd be right! Joseph Haydn decided to write The Creation after hearing the epic oratorios of George Handel during visits to England. Inspired to try his hand at writing something similarly epic in scope, he tackled the creation of the world out of the primordial chaos. To do justice to this magnificent work, the Singers will be teaming up with the Peterborough Symphony Orchestra. The Creation (Haydn) will play for two nights. On this Mother's Day weekend, why not treat your mother or someone else you love to Haydn's musical masterpiece?

FEATURING: Karolina Podolak (Soprano), Jacob Abrahamse (Tenor), Alex Dobson (Bass), Shannon McCracken (Soprano), William Kraushaar (Bass)

DIRECTED BY: Michael Newnham
